Dan.

I wanted to give you an update on your scanner and software compared to the competition. Until I ran across your LaserChamp handheld scanner, I was an avid endorser of the Socketscan Series 7. It seemed to have the most to offer and at an OK price.

I recently purchased the LaserChamp based on its low price and was hoping the scanner would work out at least as good as the Series 7 which was priced significantly higher. Having used the LaserChamp for a month now, I can say I am much happier with it than the series 7. The ergonomics are far superior to my series 7 and after prolonged scanning sessions, I can say that it works better, is easier to use and is a better product overall. The best part about this is the price of the LaserChamp. I was able to purchase this brand-new with warranty for less than a used Socketscan series 7 and it happens to be a better product as well.

Thanks for providing this excellent product at a great price as my business has benefited significantly to switching over!

Sincerely,

Matthew Rumley
